Communication Guidelines & Reporting Methods

Jeddah Campus practices high communication skills with the parents and its students. Apart from the formal report cards distributed during the year, the school has a variety of methods to report its student's performance and progress.

- Communication Books
- Phone calls/WhatsApp
- Meetings
- Email
- Progress Reports
- Weekly Plans

Communication Books (Agendas)

Every student is given a communication book (Agenda) at the beginning of the school year. Teachers communicate with parents by writing notes regarding any issue they would like to deliver to parents. Parents are asked to sign and reply if needed.

As soon as any teacher realizes that a student is not performing up to the required level, she communicates with other subject teachers and the academic coordinator about the performance of that student. They establish a plan of improvement to work with the student closely in classroom.

If the result was still not the desired one, a meeting with the parents is held to discuss the case. The principal is also involved with such meetings as she is always present at school during school hours and in the afternoon. Parents are always welcome to meet with her and discuss their concerns with the principal. She listens to them, takes notes and actions wherever needed.

At the end of every week (Thursday) students receive a weekly planner which is uploaded to the school website that shows all the assigned classwork and homework for the coming week.

In addition to this, a formal progress report is distributed three times a year (one in each term) to inform parents of their child's achievements. Parents are asked to sign each of these mentioned and send them back to school. A copy of each is usually kept in every student's file.

Four Parent- Teacher Meetings are held during the year. The first one takes place at the beginning of the academic year. It is usually called Orientation Day which is designated to introduce the teachers to the parents, discussing the general school rules, and classroom rules. They also explain the discipline policy they follow in class, in addition to a brief glimpse of the academic system. The second, third and fourth meetings are held during each term. Teachers discuss students' academic and non- academic performance with parents and clarify ambiguities.

Parents who require special attention for their children (such as students who require extra help, students who have academic difficulties, and students with behavioral issues) are to be updated about their child's performance. In such cases, the concerned teacher communicates with the parents regularly through meetings along with the academic coordinator and supplies them with the necessary information and tools required.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS/STUDENT LEAVING

Good communication is essential in this respect. Please inform the school as early as possible of any changes of address or phone number, or in the event that your child will be leaving the school.

Withdrawals

As a parent decides to withdraw from the school, a certain procedure is followed before he/she leaves. The parents should write a letter clarifying the reason for leaving the school. If the reason has to do with any dissatisfaction with the school, then the principal makes sure to meet the parents/guardians, discuss the problem, and find out the reason behind such a decision. The principal tries to lay a hand on the problem and take the necessary and immediate measure, if possible, to solve it, so that such cases in the future won't re-occur. Administration – Parents communication in this matter is highly required.

If the reason is not related to any dissatisfaction with the school, then the principal just meets them to say goodbye and the leaving procedure begins.

The procedure is as follows:

- Parents should submit 'letter of withdrawal' addressed to the school.
- The accounts department makes sure that all fees are settled.
- A 'Clearance Report' is given to the parents.
- A 'leaving certificate' is issued with the name of the student and the years he/she attended Jeddah Campus with the grades accomplished.
- The original report cards and certificates are handed to the parents, where they sign that they have received them.

Student Guidelines

ATTENDANCE

Our belief is that regular attendance and punctuality are essential to the academic success of our students. Students are expected to arrive on time and attend classes regularly.

Parents are required to communicate in writing with school office regarding any absence of their child including early departure. Parents must also coordinate with the school to collect the make –up work due to absences.

HOMEWORK

Homework is an essential continuation and practice of work that begins in the classroom and can help fulfill a student's academic needs. Parent encouragement and interest in student work produces a positive influence on students' attitude towards school. The teaching team communicates expectations for the class through weekly plans attached on the students' communication book. These go home daily in their respective homework file.

PROGRESS REPORTS

At the end of each quarter, a progress report is completed for all students and distributed to parents. Furthermore, teachers may send aid reports to parents if a student is experiencing difficulty in a specific area.

TEXTBOOKS

Student textbooks are provided during the first week of school. The class books are kept in the classroom and sent home every other week for the parents to review their child's work. Homework books are sent home regularly.

STUDENTS IN CLASSROOMS

Students are not to be in their classrooms before or after school, or during break, without the permission and supervision of a teacher.

Discipline

Here at Jeddah Campus, discipline and guidance centers around respect and responsibility. Every child is expected to be a respectful, responsible member of our group. This ranges from children cleaning up their own “mess” after lunch to using manners and politeness when speaking to each other.

All “rules” emphasize around these respect/responsibility/safety guidelines. The only rules are those that are required to maintain a safe and respectful environment for all the students.

To help prevent problems, clear, consistent and simple limits will be established. These limits will be stated in a positive manner (ex. “please walk” instead of “don’t run”) and all limits will be explained in a manner that the children can understand (ex. “we need to walk inside so you or someone else doesn’t get hurt in case of a ‘crash’ or fall”).

Only if the need arises a KG child will be put in a "Relaxing Chair" to encourage self-control and responsibility. Elementary students will be following the classroom behavior charts and according to these charts, teachers will inform administration about students who do not follow the school rules and the administration will decide to choose a consequence, for example avoiding the student’s participation in a class activity.

Canteen

The school operates a complete catering service and can provide all healthy and age-appropriate food and drinks necessary by way of purchases at the school canteen.

However, all children have the option to bring a packed lunch to school or use the canteen. If parents choose packed lunch, it should be nutritionally balanced. An example of a good lunch box is: A piece of fruit, a sandwich, two boxed natural fruit juices (not drinks), and maybe a pack of healthy biscuits. (NO EGGS, CHOCOLATE, CHIPS ARE ALLOWED TO BE BROUGHT TO SCHOOL UNLESS INSTRUCTED).

SICKNESS AT SCHOOL: SCHOOL CLINIC

The school employs a qualified specialist who is available at all times during school hours. If a student feels ill, the supervisor should be informed. The student will be then sent to the school specialist. Should the matter be more than a minor one, parents will be contacted immediately.

DRESS CODE/APPEARANCE

School uniforms are compulsory for all students which parents must supply. The shoes must be black/navy. The uniform dress code requires students to come to school clean, well groomed, and appropriately dressed for participation in the educational process. Neatness, cleanliness/hygiene, modesty, safety, personal and public health, and a certain formality are always expected of students. Parents are expected to show their support for the dress code by ensuring that the student leaves home dressed appropriately. Hair must be neatly cut/pinned/plaited and combed. Nails must be kept clean and short. Boys must maintain their hair trim and neat.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DRESS CODE

Students are required to wear only the PE uniforms in PE classes and navy/black shoes.

VISITORS AND APPOINTMENTS

The school operates an "Open door Policy". However, all visitors must report to the guardhouse before entering the school. And then, the reception before moving around campus. No visitor or parent will be allowed to enter a classroom during the school day without being accompanied by a staff member.

The school administrator welcomes every opportunity to meet parents, but it is important that an appointment be made first, stating the purpose of the meeting. Similarly, the principal, coordinator, counsellor and teachers also need appointments to ease their busy schedules.

TRANSPORTATION

A supervised bus service is provided to students who request it. Parents sign an agreement and submit an official school form, a house map, and set payment arrangements to avail this service for their children. The bus service payment depends on either if a student will use it for one way or two ways, for the whole school year or one term only. The bus service is only available for students who have subscribed for the service.

At JCS, we have chosen CLASSLIGHT (One of the best E-learning platforms) to facilitate learning, provide successful virtual classes and encourage peer collaboration and teacher-parent communication. Students will receive their CLASSLIGHT accounts through SMS at the beginning of the school year.

Partnerships

JCS established an effective Community Partnership Program to improve the learning process. As part of collaborating with the community, our school works with some organizations to promote community services and teach our students the importance of volunteering.
